

Save the Date!!

October 30 & 31, 2014

University of California, Riverside

Child Wellbeing Initiative Conference

The purpose of the conference is to learn from each other how agencies use data, and to identify the missing links in the collection and analyses of data for making intelligent policy decisions.

The UCR Child Wellbeing Initiative has been created to work with regional community leaders to:

Analyze Education, Health, and Public Policy Data to Improve Services for Children and Families in our Communities

Sponsored jointly by

UCR Graduate School of Education, School of Medicine, and School of Public Policy

Keynote Speakers:

Professor Gary Henry, Vanderbilt University, noted authority on factors influencing teacher effectiveness

Angelica Baltazar, Esri Health and Human Services Industry Specialist

Panel Presentations by Regional Leaders

- A: Data Supporting Child Nurture & Development*
- B: Data Supporting Child Safety and Protection*
- C: Data to Improve Organization & Policy*

